VISIT TO ABERGLASNEY AND LLANDEILO
THURSDAY MAY 12th, 2022

If you haven't been to Aberglasney before this is a must. 'It was a garden orphaned and abandoned, its walls crumbling beneath the weight of ivy, was rescued from dereliction and restored to great beauty by a princely gathering of well-wishers and a combination of private and public funding'. So says Helena Attlee's book 'The Gardens of Wales'. It is constantly changing and at any time of the year there is something new and beautiful to revel in.

We are delighted that the current Head Gardener, Joseph Atkin, will give us a conducted tour of the garden.

There is free time in Llandeilo after our visit to Aberglasney and before we return to Cardiff.

We have no idea what the weather will be like so please come suitably dressed for whatever weather is forecast. Walking shoes are strongly recommended as paths can be uneven.

The timetable for the day is as follows:
