Wild, beautiful, creative and rural, Cornwall really is the stuff of legends. Historically a land of ancient myths and Celtic culture, today Cornwall is the perfect holiday idyll. A proudly unique and independent spirit is nurtured within this south-westerly peninsula, which is fringed with mighty sea cliffs, quaint harbour towns, beautiful bays and stunning beaches. Inland, the wild and woody interior conceals magical gardens and innovative projects, and the lovely towns are a treasure trove of excellent restaurants and vibrant cafés.

National Maritime Museum, Falmouth

Knightsayes (NT)

The grand estate of Knightsayes is a Gothic Revival vision in the Devon countryside. The quirky and lavish mansion has much to explore, and the grounds have fine and varied collections of plants.

National Maritime Museum

Falmouth's maritime museum traces the important role the town played in global trade during centuries past, thanks to its unusually deep natural harbour. Discover more of the maritime heritage of Cornwall and the part boats played in Cornish people's lives through special exhibitions & talks.

Pendennis Castle

With a stunning coastal backdrop and views over the town of Falmouth, Pendennis Castle is a wonderful place to explore. For the best views climb to the top of the Tudor Keep. Marvel at the display of big guns in the Field Train Shed and learn about the mighty power of these coastal defence weapons. The collection includes Tudor, Napoleonic, Victorian and 20th-century guns, each with information on how they would have been used. Or follow the tunnel down to the Half Moon Battery used during WWII.

Lost Gardens of Heligan

Tate St Ives

In a delightful setting overlooking beautiful Porthmeor Beach, Tate St Ives tells the captivating story of life on the Cornish Coast through local artists. In a light contemporary setting, the gallery showcases works of art including Barbara Hepworth, Marlow Moss, Naum Gabo and Patrick Heron.

Leach Pottery & Museum

The Leach Pottery Museum is the original home and workplace of revered potter Bernard Leach. Explore the 100-year-old pottery; the clay room, the throwing room with kick wheels and a Japanese climbing kiln. Discover the fascinating history of the pottery and other potters that have spent time training and working here.

Lost Gardens of Heligan

Once a grand 19th century estate, the gardens here were forgotten after WWII and a tangle of weeds and brambles took over. However, following a chance rediscovery of a door in the ruins, the gardens have been lovingly restored in true secret garden style, and now form a horticultural wonder. With a network of historic pathways winding through formal lawns, twisted rhododendrons, mysterious grottos, and exuberant jungle; a magical and romantic delight.

Knightsayes (NT)

Lanhydrock (NT)

A magnificent, high-Victorian manor house, Lanhydrock is perhaps the finest estate in Cornwall. Offering a fascinating glimpse into the lives of its former inhabitants, the house has extensive servants' quarters which contrast with the elegance and comfort of the family rooms. Outside, the wonderful gardens offer year-round colour and beautiful herbaceous borders, and the wider estate has tranquil woodland to explore.

Bodmin Jail

Set on the edge of rugged Bodmin Moor, Bodmin Jail built in the 1770s is an imposing landmark historical site which showcases the rich and darkly fascinating legacy of Georgian and Victorian crime. Our guided tour will give us an in-depth view of life in Bodmin Jail and its infamous inmates as we walk through the centuries-old rooms and hear stories which played an important part in Cornish history.

A reasonable degree of mobility is recommended for this tour.

The exact order of excursions will be included in your itinerary, which you should expect to receive approximately 2-3 weeks prior to departure.

Our Hotel

The Penventon Park Hotel combines Georgian splendour with comfortable and modern accommodation and a wonderful range of facilities including a leisure club. Stylish and well-appointed guest rooms include hairdryer, TV, iron/ironing board and tea/coffee making facilities. The restaurant prides itself on offering an excellent menu and is well regarded locally, plus there's a characterful bar. The hotel does not have a lift, however ground floor rooms may be requested. The true single rooms are small, with a 3' bed.
